Our correct Sailor Hats

Just because a hat is of sailor shape is no guarantv that its style is correct.

This firm is recognized as an authority on Sailor Hats, and our stock always comprises the very latest models.

To a certain extent we specialize in the sailor shapes. Come to us and you may be sure of finding the last offerings of Dame Fashion.

Particular attention is also called to our lines of Panama Hats for women's wear. These are designed with narrow brims, but still retain the desired "mannish" effect.

The three dames of honor, the bride's sister, Mrs. John Donald Dial, Mrs. Hiter King of New York and Mrs. Edward Cay, and the maid of honor, Mrs. Florence Arthur of New York, were all gowned in white charmeuse, with pink sashes, and they carried shower baskets of sweet peas tied with pink ribbon. The bride, who entered with her father, was joined at the altar by the groom with his best man, Mr. Maury Middleton of Washington. The bride's gown was of white point lace, her ve'l of rose point lace fell to the bottom of the long court train, and was held in place with the same lovely bridal blossoms, and her bouquet was of sweet peas en shower. Immediately after the ceremony a brilliant reception was given at the resi-dence of the bride's parents, on Pendleton street. After a trip to Florida, New York and Washington they will make their home in Charleston, where Mr. Ansley has a position with the Southern
